Retired Air Force Staff Sgt. Curtis Hahn practices shooting a bow and arrow at his 11-acre deer ranch in Seguin, Texas, Sept. 30, 2011. Hahn was medically retired from the Air Force after suffering severe brain damage after falling 16 feet from from an oak tree while trying to set up a deer stand Oct. 10, 1990. The former A-10 aircraft mechanic is still an avid hunter and bow hunts, albeit more carefully, for deer each season at Camp Bullis in San Antonio.
