

Senior Airman Chris Jones, a 14th Security Forces Squadron member, marches in the rain along Highway 84 near Jonesville, La., July 25, 2011, during the Ruck March to Remember. The march, which is being conducted by 23 security forces units nationwide, commemorates the 10th anniversary of 9/11.

Members of the 14th Security Forces Squadron from Columbus Air Force Base, Miss., march across the Vidalia-Natchez Bridge heading east over the Mississippi River July 26, 2011, as part of the "Ruck March To Remember." Security Forces Airmen from 23 squadrons began the 2, 181-mile march July 12 at the Security Forces Center at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and will finish their journey Sept. 11 at Ground Zero in New York City to coincide with the 10-year anniversary of 9/11.

Staff Sgt. William Noble, 14th Security Forces Squadron, takes a moment on July 27 to speak with Ty Whittaker, a resident of Meadville, Miss.

Senior Airman Chris Jones runs by a group of supporters July 26, 2011, in Vidalia, La. during their leg of the "Ruck March to Remember." Support during the trip came from the community, local businesses and many police stations.

Maj. Ringer, 14th Security Forces Squadron Commander, passes the Ruck March to Remember Guidon to Tech. Sgt. Chad Reemtsma, Hurlburt Field Security Forces, during the changeover Ceremony July 28 in Brookhaven Miss. The passing of the guidon ended the 146 mile journey in the hands of the 14th SFS.