

President Barack Obama and First Lady Michelle Obama shake hands with awaiting children who greeted them upon their arrival in El Salvador March 22. Joint Task Force-Bravo supported preparation efforts for the arrival providing a military working dog and dog handler, air stairs, refueling personnel, a mobile surgical team and other supporting personnel for the event. While speaking in El Salvador, the president announced a new $200 million partnership with El Salvador to combat drug wars, strengthen courts and civil society groups to keep young people from turning to drugs and crime.
